CWA CHARGES

Haste makes waste, is an age-old maxim. When you want something done at once, thoroughness is lessened. That applies in small and large undertakings.

The necessity of getting C. W. A. work done quickly and giving the long-out man immediate spending money, no doubt caused the waste of haste. Therefore, many of the complaints being voiced may be true or of possible foundation.

We take the position, however, that virtually every dollar of the CWA money is getting into immediate circulation, no matter who might get hold of it rafirst. Therefore, we feel that the entire program is ujstified and meeting its aim.

It would be a shame for the program to be defeated by the methods of companies in the air. All in all the job is being well done.

REDISTRICTING THE STATE

The general assembly is having quite a time tring to work out a redistricting bill. One that meets requirements of the constitution and also maintains political units is yet to be offered.

The Times Virginian is content to leave the question of where Appomattox and Buckingham shall be placed in the most capable hands of our beloved senator. Hon. S. L. Ferguson. We note that he has opposed the grouping of counties in the fourth district, not that we have anything against our god friends of the Petersburg section, but because politicary past is aligned with the old tenth and present seventh.

The political and sentiment al ties of a county are to be treasured and preserved. I just wouldn't seem right for Hal Flood's and Harry St. George Tucker's old district to be thrown with new "bedfellows."

MAKE READY NOW

We implore our farmers to begin now planning right now to make the coming season a banner one for the "Live on the farm" movement. Plan gory gardens in advance and plant enough so the housewife can preserve and can the surplus. Stock in with pigs, poultry, at the proper time. Turn cash crop, tobacco as it's going to bring you but so much revenue, so you will needs to raise all you can on the farm and be thus independent.

GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN DOES NOT HARM THE HEART

Nerves — Do they torture you by day? Keep you awake at night? What is it that keeps hospitals open and doctors busy? NERVES. What is it that makes your face wrinkled and makes you feel old? NERVES. Nine times out of ten it's NERVES that make you restless, worried, haggard.

Nerves — Do they make you Cranky, Blue [illegible] gestion, Nervous Headache? When nerves are over-taxed, you worry over trifles, find it hard to concentrate, can't sit still. Nerve Strain brings on Headache. Nervous people often suffer from Indigestion. There may be absolutely nothing wrong with the organs of digestion, but the Nerves are not on the job to make the organs do their work properly.

Nerves — Do they interefere with your work; ruin your pleasure; drive away your friends? You're cheating yourself and the man who pays you if you work when your NERVES are not normal. You can't have a good time when you are nervous. You can't make or keep friends when you are keyed up and irritable. You may excuse yourself, but to others you are just a plain crank.

QUICKER, BETTER RELIEF from use of Black-Draught

"I have taken Black-Draught, off and on when needed, for twenty-five years, for it is easy to take," writes Mr. Dan T. Wharton, of Petersburg, Va. "I take it for constipation and when I have that sick, tired feeling. I take it for colds and other complaints where a good laxative is needed, and I believe it gives as quicker and better relief than any other medicine I know. It certainly has been a help to me."

P.S.—If you have Constipation, give them the new, pleasant-tasting SYRUP of Thedford's Black-Draught.

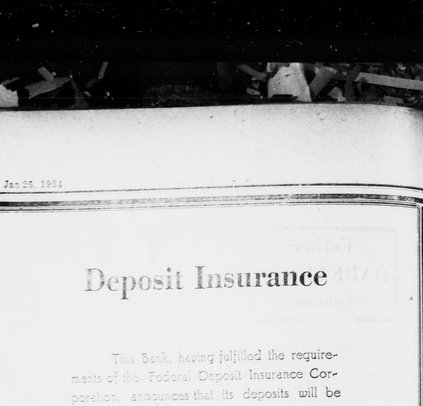
New "Knee-Action" Chevrolet Gives Passengers Ride Like a Glide



In the design and development of the new 1934 Chevrolet, particular attention has been given to ease and smoothness of riding. Each wheel is mounted independently of the other, so that bumps encountered by the upper photograph, at the left, affect only the front wheel on that side. Wheel rush has been practically eliminated by the Fisher No-Draft Ventilation System, and the new Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" wheels enjoy the advantage of being completely enclosed in a weathertight housing; the coil springs and upper and lower control arms are also housed. William S. Hoffer, Chevrolet's chief engineer, is shown at the left holding a chart which shows the internal construction of the new car.

The driver and passengers in the new 1934 Chevrolet get a ride like the glide of an airplane. One of the main factors in improving the riding qualities of the new car to such a great extent is the "Knee-Action"—or independently sprung front wheels, to use the technical term.

So much has been written about independent springing that the public has doubtless concluded that it is something too technical to understand. As a matter of fact, there is nothing complicated about either the principle involved or the construction of the system. Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" enjoys the advantage of being enclosed in a welded weathertight housing in which the entire spring mechanism and shock absorbers ride up and down in a bath of oil.

An automobile gives a perfect ride when both the front and rear springs have the same "frequency," or tension. Actually this has been impossible to carry out in the past because the front springs had to be over twice as "stiff" as the rear springs in order to hold the front axle, wheels and brakes in place. In independent springing, the wheels and spring mechanism are rigidly attached directly to the frame and there is no front axle, wheels and axle, therefore, it became possible to make the front springs as "soft" as the rear springs. When both front and rear move up and down with the same frequency—there is no inclination on the part of the rear end of the car to leap into the air and throw the passengers forward and upward.

Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" has additional advantages all contributing to a comfort in riding never before thought possible in a motor car. There is a decided improvement in handling, steering, safety at high speeds and tire economy.

In design, the front spring is a neat, compact and efficient unit, as Mr. Hoffer points out in the above picture. The entire spring mechanism is attached rigidly to the frame. From this enclosed unit the wheels spring vertically at the ends of strong, steel horizontal arms.

Begin Taking Cardui Today If You Suffer Like This Lady Did

"WHEN I was a girl, I began taking Cardui," writes Mrs. Maggie Stanfield, of Crandall, Ga. "I was very irregular for twelve months. Nothing did me very much good until my mother began to give me this medicine. Then I got all right, stout and well.

"After I was married, I was in bad health. I began taking Cardui again. I was troubled with my back a lot. Was awfully restless. I could not sleep well. I just weighed 90 pounds when I began taking Cardui. I improved quickly. Before long I weighed 126 pounds. I felt fine. I was able to do a good day's work."

Cardui is sold by druggists here.
